

Myra Kelly

Myra has been a great member and servant of St. Peter`s for many years. She was so helpful to everyone and would be the last person to sing her own praises. A shy but cheerful and practical person, Myra seemed to know everyone and their friends and family. She was a realist and accepted things as they were but always showed an interest in the lives of others. This stood her well in her work as baptism visitor and organiser and in the many tasks that she performed behind the scenes. She helped in the rescue of St. Peter`s Mothers Union and was leader for some years, maintaining her interest and support ever afterwards. Myra threw herself into the life of the parish and was there supporting most events and services. She made a great contribution in the Bible Study Groups and will be sorely missed. She was on the sacristan team for over 25 years and after “retiring” from there still continued to set up for Wednesday and Friday services. Myra also continued to be a Eucharistic minister for the Wednesday service, again after retiring from that role in other services. She was so much a part of the weft and weave of the fabric of St. Peter`s along with her knowledge of the people of the parish that she is irreplaceable. She joins with the saints in light, knowing that she has fought the good fight, run the race and her work is done. It is a blessing to have known you, thank you Myra.

On a personal note Myra was the best and dearest friend that anyone could have, she was such a kind and caring person. She was such an immense help to Liz as they “worked” together for over 25 years in the vestry at St. Peter`s, in that time they saw each other nearly every day. She was a dear member of our little Bible Study Group led by Ken and made a real contribution to the discussion. She is going to be missed so much, you could rely on her for absolutely anything. She was just such a lovely, lovely person. God bless you Myra.
